VOTE FOR MOORE COUNTY GIS!!!

Moore County GIS has submitted a video for the UNC School of Government 2014 GIGa award for their work with the mobile security mapping for the 2014 US Open championships. The five-minute video explains the project and GIS needs as many people as possible to vote for it to increase their chances of winning the award and top video.

Although Moore County GIS is competing with much larger jurisdictions like Durham and Orange Counties, their work is just as great if not better and so despite their smaller size, the Moore County GIS staff really want to win! Please help them out by clicking the link below:

On February 26th the GIS Department received an honorable mention for this project at the NCGIS conference.

Moore County GIS won second place for the School of Government's GIGa award last year for their countywide water modeling project. Please vote for them so they can take home first place this year! (They are currently just a few "likes" behind Orange County for the video).
